Project: GTAVI Waiting Room

Description: The GTAVI Waiting Room is a website that prioritizes the upcoming release of the game of Grand Theft Auto 6. The surmise of this is to bring former players of GTA to check in on the predicted remaining days of the new game launch. The website will include a subscription service so that players (users) may get information as quickly and thoroughly as possible. The website will try to include the players best interest such as any potential drops that GTAVI may include from potential streaming platforms, release date times (time zones), and when the pre order release date is available. This website will store the players email and/or phone number (depending on how they sign up). There will also be an option to directly donate to keep up information on the latest news on GTAVI and much more.
